Time flies. Whether we like it or not, these past four years of high school have caused us to grow up and become young adults, ready to go out into the world. We are all starting from the same place, but we are all going in different directions. We strive to obtain the goals we set for ourselves by using what we've learned from the past. Change happens. The excitement of our senior year is replaced with cherished moments and memories of the past. Different goals have been set after accomplishing previous ones. Looking back in ten, twenty, thirty years, there will be even more change we see in ourselves than we do now. Living in the present allows us to appreciate the past. This yearbook captures our lives at this current moment to show who we are and where we come from. Change allows us to see the progression of ourselves as a generation of individuals: then and now.

Then & Now

Senior year is one of the most memorable times of your life. It is a time when everyone unites to make their final year extraordinary. Previous classes were filled with role models and great examples of what it means to have Wamp pride. Now, we are the face of Braintree High. We understand the leadership and responsibility of what it means to be a Wamp, passing on lessons learned to those who will carry on the pep rally cheers, classroom discussions, and events bringing the community together. We are all Wamps in our own way, developing and growing since our freshman year: on the field, on the stage, in the classroom and in the stands. Each individual is unique, but we are all a part of BHS. Our accomplishments within these walls open new doors to all of our futures. No matter how old we are or how far away we go, Braintree will always be a part of us. To have respect, to be proud, and to succeed are the goals of these 409 students on the next 60 pages, who make up the Braintree High graduating class of 2015.

This photo was taken during the Spirit Week of the Class of 2015.

Class of 2015

Last First

BRAINTREE HIGH SCHOOL

Day of School

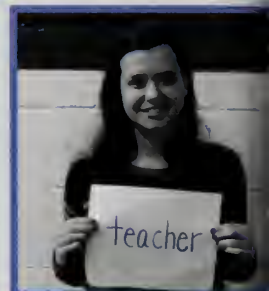

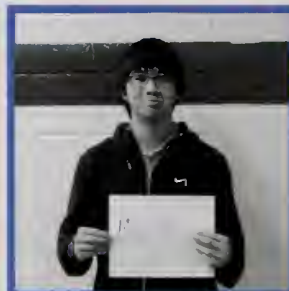

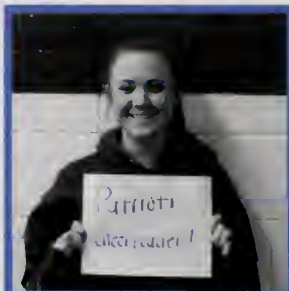

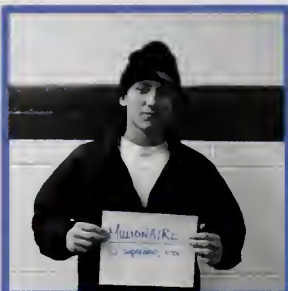

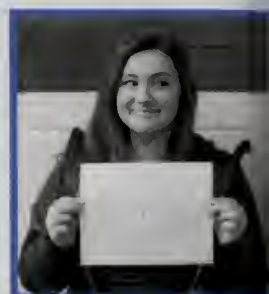

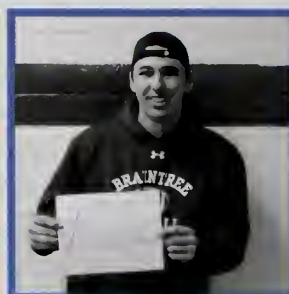

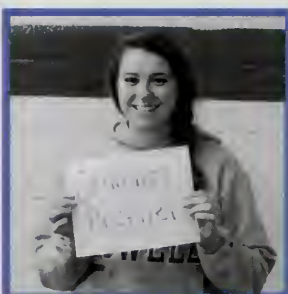

On the highly anticipated morning of September 4th, 2014, seniors walked through the doors of Braintree High, marking the official first day of their final year at BHS. They carried their old friends and worn-in cleats through the familiar hallways. The graduates-to-be walked confidently, knowing the responsibilities they held and the leaders they were expected to be in the coming year. These Wamps knew what they had to be remembered.

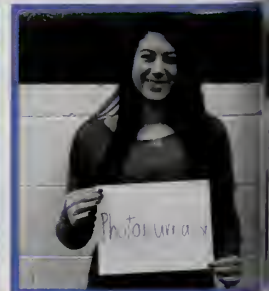

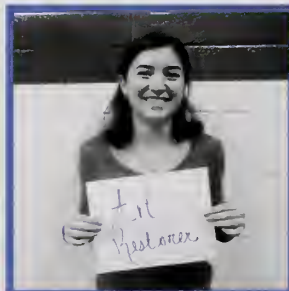

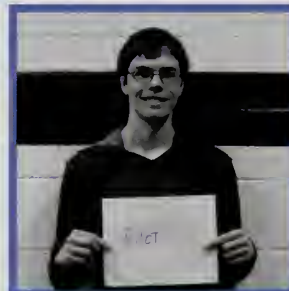

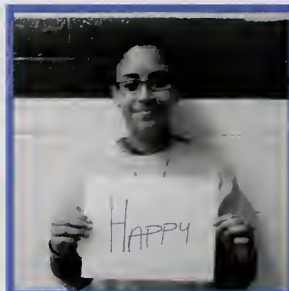

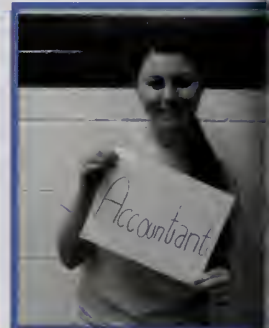

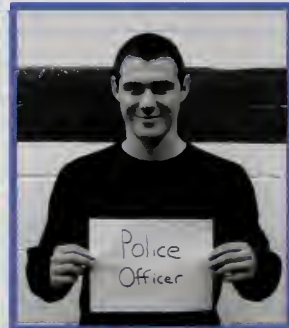

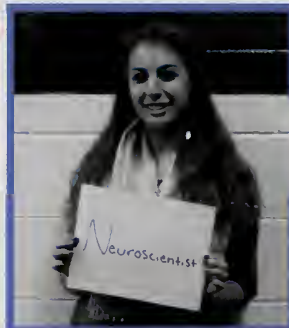

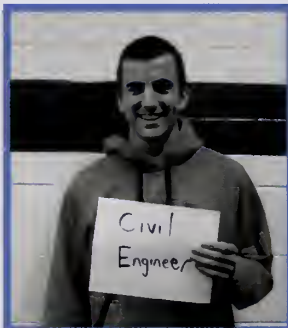

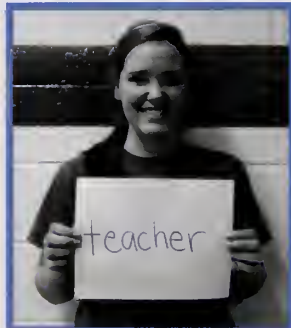

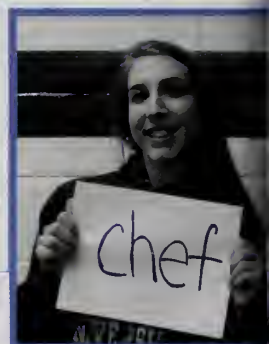

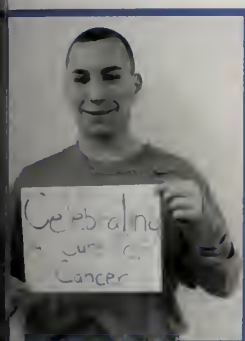

09.04.14

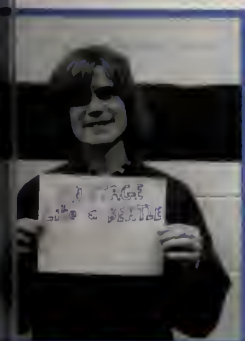

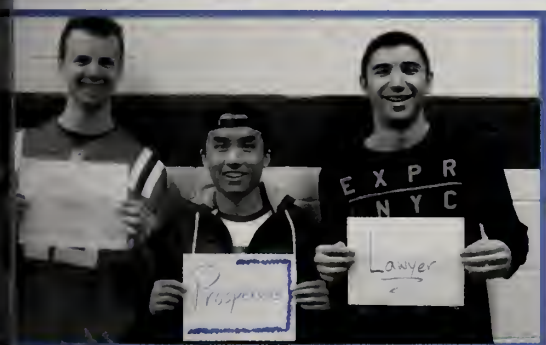

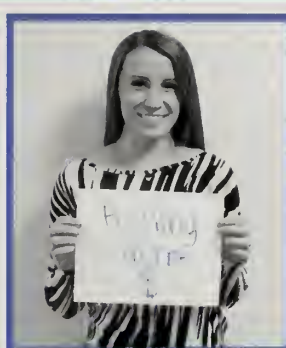

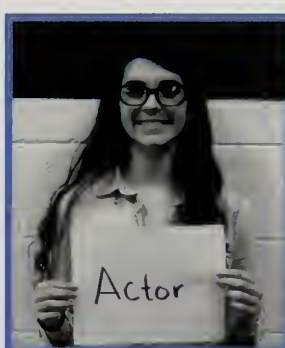

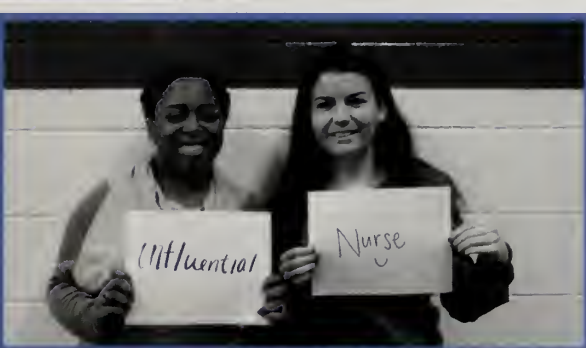

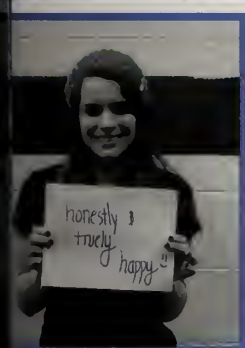

Right now, we are students. We are athletes, scholars, actors, singers, and leaders. On June 6, 2015, we will be graduates. After a summer of graduation parties, sleepless nights, heartfelt goodbyes and countless memories, we will each set off on our own journeys. But no matter where we go, we will take our Wamp Pride with us. Where will you take it? What will you be?

"The best way to predict your future is to create it."
- Abraham Lincoln

Interviews with the Staff

Mr. Freeman

What advice do you have for the Class of 2015?

THINK before you hit 'send'.

What is your favorite event that occurs at BHS?

The day-to-day interaction with my students is as good as it gets.

What is your favorite memory from your senior year of high school?

Getting accepted to the college of my choice.

What advice do you have for the Class of 2015?
I have three pieces of advice for the Class of 2015. First, make sure that you choose a job you love regardless of how much money you'll earn. I had too many friends who wanted to major in their passion, like music, but majored in business instead because it was "practical." As a teacher, it's not like I'm going to be the next billionaire, but waking up every morning and doing something I love to do makes me happier than I would be sitting at a desk with a larger pay check. Second, never give up on your dreams. I know this sounds really cheesy and cliché, but it's true. This world will chew you up and spit you out and it will feel awful. You will get dumped by your girlfriend/boyfriend, rejected from jobs/internships, etc. Take some time to sit around in fuzzy pajamas, eat a pint of ice cream, and watch sappy movies with your friends. Then get up and keep going. You never know what is just around the corner. Lastly, don't be scared to admit you need help. Sometimes it is easy to be stubborn and try to do everything on your own. But sometimes you just need a friend, colleague, or peer to lean on. Believe it or not, people want to help you. So never be ashamed to ask!

What is your favorite event that occurs at BHS?

As a new teacher I feel like I'm a little unqualified to answer this question since I haven't yet experienced all the BHS events. However, so far I would say that my favorite event is Spirit Week leading to the Pep Rally. I went to a really small high school that didn't have a football team so I had never been to a Pep Rally before! It was amazing to see the school spirit and support for the athletic teams and the dance off was amazing (although maybe next year a staff member could also compete! We can dance too).

What is your favorite memory from your senior year of high school?

I went to a school that was grades 6 - 12. One of the teachers at the school was extremely involved with an organization that funded an orphanage in Romania. She went every year and would bring supplies to the kids and nearby families in need. I was always involved in giving back as a child, so all through middle and high school I would sew and knit scarves, blankets, dolls etc. to send to Romania. My senior year this teacher went to Romania and I took five students with her. I was lucky enough to be one of them. When I walked into the orphanage, on one of the beds was a quilt I had made in sixth grade. Seeing how this small blanket I sewed seven years prior meant so much to one of the girls in the orphanage just warmed my heart in a way I can't fully describe in words. It's one thing to send supplies across the country, but it's another to see and interact with the people that benefit from them. It was one of the best experiences of my entire life!

Ms. Stonebraker

Mr. Daley

What advice do you have for the Class of 2015?

The number one thing that I would say is save your cap and gown. That thing really comes in handy down the lines for assorted costumes for relatives and such. However on a serious note, I would tell every kid to just take a deep breath and enjoy your accomplishment. There is a lot more of life left, but you never really get a ceremony like this again. Sure graduating college or grad school is nice, but that high school graduation with the kids you grew up with is special. You should really take a moment and look around the day of graduation, and let it soak in because it goes by quickly.

What is your favorite event that occurs at BHS?

I mean Dancing with the Staff is clearly up there for me as a three time champ, but if I'm being honest I really love Mr. BHS. Every year that I have been here the kids never fail to impress with their skills and creativity. Sometimes they take a bit too far, but overall they always keep it classy.

What is your favorite memory from your senior year of high school?

My favorite memory from Senior year would have to be the rally before the Thanksgiving day game. It was great having everyone together in the gym before my favorite holiday. Also at my high school the seniors wore black for the rally day, and the freshmen wore pink. It seems kind of mean looking back now, but I just remember that day as feeling like I had made it to the end (even though I still had months to go).

Mr. Buckley

What advice do you have for the Class of 2015?

Think and plan very carefully about what your life's work will be.

What is your favorite event that occurs at BHS?

Any time music happens and art is shared.

What is your favorite memory from your senior year of high school?

When our principal let us do a rock show in the NQHS auditorium.

Mrs. McKinnies

What advice do you have for the Class of 2015?

venture out into the world. There is so much to see and do outside of Braintree. Travel abroad during college and come back to share your experiences with us!

What is your favorite event that occurs at BHS?

Senior Prom is my favorite event at BHS. It is awesome to see the seniors all grown up and so amazingly put together outside of school. Everyone comes together on the dance floor to show off the best dance moves and to celebrate how happy they are about their latest accomplishments.

What is your favorite memory from your senior year of high school?

My favorite memory from my senior year was our senior week. The class came together and got to see how we had made such great friendships that have lasted us now, many years.

Mrs. Moynihan

What advice do you have for the Class of 2015?

Be kind to others and do what you need to do to leave a positive mark on the world.

What is your favorite event that occurs at BHS?

My favorite event is graduation. It's the climactic moment of thirteen years of schooling and to see on the students' faces how proud they are of themselves.

What is your favorite memory from your senior year of high school?

Being the leadership role of president, especially during the holidays, and being able to speak at graduation.

Mr. Dinh

What advice do you have for the Class of 2015?

Do the best you can in all you do.

What is your favorite event that occurs at BHS?

Graduation

Class of 2015,

Well...you're here. Where you ask? Here...on the precipice. The precipice of all that life has to offer that you, and only you, can go and experience. It is a wonderful view. It is full of challenges, joys, disappointments, triumphs, and fulfillments. A menu of life's offerings from which you select and pursue with the vigor of someone living their life completely. We are envious. You are prepared for all of these opportunities, as you have matured and developed under the protection of your family, your schools, and your community. We have all watched with pride and affection, as you have evolved into the fine young men and women you are today. Foremost among us are your parents, who have loved and supported you with the knowledge that you will become that person who will seize upon life and make the most of every day which you are given. Do not disappoint them. It is within this knowledge that you will find your greatest happiness. A full and rich life awaits those that dare to challenge themselves and risk defeat in the pursuit of fulfilling their dreams. Although temporary defeat is inevitable, find a way to make getting back up and continuing that pursuit equally assured. You are ready. Your family and your community stand behind you as you move forward...so move confidently from the precipice towards your promising lives.

Mr. James Lee

School Committee

Superintendent: Dr. Maureen Murray

Congratulations, members of the Class of 2015! I am so proud of the accomplishments of your class and so proud to be your Superintendent. You have distinguished yourselves in the classroom, on the athletic fields, on the stage for concerts and plays, and in other venues where you have represented your school. More important, you have grown into fine young men and women who stand ready to fulfill interesting and meaningful roles as you approach adulthood. You are a class known for being committed to service in the community, to caring for your neighbors and classmates, for being honest and hard-working. These are the qualities that will serve you well as you leave high school and begin new adventures. I hope you have made good memories at BHS. We wish you the best and look forward to hearing about all the wonderful opportunities open to you and what you make of them.

A Typical Day at BHS

The D in PRIDE stands for diversity, the wild mix of personalities, histories, cultures, interests, strengths, and futures that makes up our school and community. But while we are unique in the people that we strive to be, we are united by our Wamp jerseys, our Braintree blue blood, our fluorescent yellow senior shirts, our Superfan status, and our love for cheesy bagels. Back then, we could not have spent our days rocking out to music at the Battle of the Bands, laughing at our teachers swinging their hips, screaming at the top of our lungs at the pep rally, or watching our friends compete to be Mr. BHS; now we can dress as doctors and patients on Multiplicity day, hang silly banners in the gym lobby, and take silly pictures in the photobooth at prom. Our pasts rest in Braintree now, but our futures- who knows where?

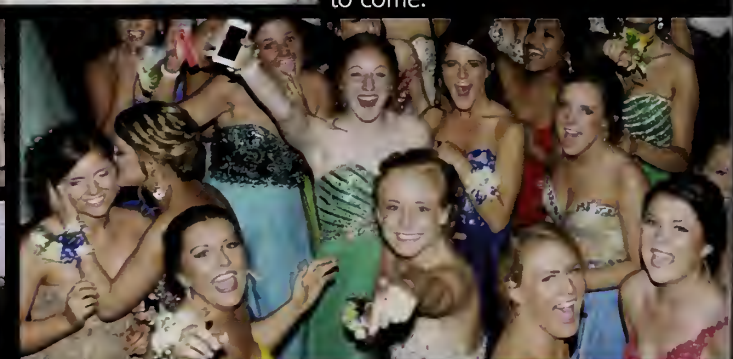

Student Life

Junior Prom

Braintree High School

May 17th, 2014

After months of planning, weeks of tanning, and a busy day of preparation, the junior prom finally arrived on May 17th, 2014. Hair appointments were attended, suits picked up, corsages and boutonnières sold out at every flower shop in town. After attending photo sessions we thought would last an eternity, we headed to Braintree High School foyer for a night of dancing, dining, and making memories. The moment we entered the building, we were no longer students, but well-dressed Wamps in a Las Vegas casino. Thanks to the Prom Committee, the Class of 2014 Student Council and our class adviser, what happened at our glamorous night in Vegas will not stay there, but instead live on in our memories for many years to come.

SPIRIT WEEK

10.20.14-10.24.14

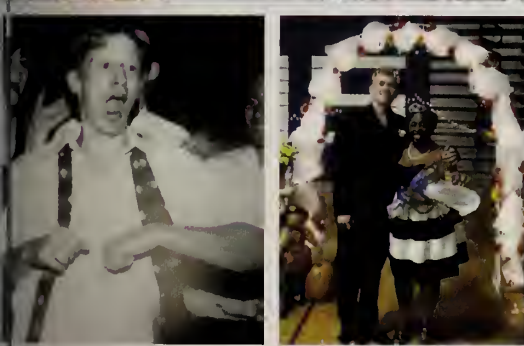

What better reflection of Braintree High School PRIDE is there than Spirit Week? Piling into the senior parking lot, Backstreet Boys and SYNC blared from our speakers and we dusted off our GameBoys; the week we had been waiting for was finally here. At home, our flannels, scrubs and sacred yellow t-shirts were lined up, ready for the week ahead. A pile of blue and white lay at the end of the row, a endearing compilation of our past years as Wamps: gear collected from teams and clubs, a pair of sunglasses bought from a beggingrosse player, a headband from a friend on the fockey team. Students and teachers alike dress to impress; the more outrageous, the better. Over the course of a week, we were cavemen, 90's rappers, cowboys, hillbillies, doctors, surgeons, patients, flashes of yellow, and, but certainly not least: Wamps. Photos were snapped, faces painted, and more than a few tears shed. Looking out over the sea of blue that flooded the gym during the pep rally, we took it all in. We watched our classmates perform, honored our fellow seniors, and bid off the football team with well wishes. Although it flew by in the blink of an eye, the memories of Spirit Week at Braintree High and Wamp Pride will live on in our bleeding blue hearts forever.

Homecoming

Braintree High School

October 25, 2014

Homecoming is not something Wamps take lightly, and it has been a popular tradition in Braintree for many years. Up until the late 90's, people took to the streets parading in cars and floats showing how proud they were to be from Braintree. Clubs and groups submit decked-out banners hung throughout the school the entire week. That pride and commitment has now been translated on to the field, where all of Braintree's sports teams compete Homecoming weekend. Both athletes and spectators alike celebrated the success of these teams, especially football in their defeat against Brookline, by dressing up and dancing the evening away at the dance. Every house had photo sessions of girls in fitted dresses of every color, and significantly taller after purchasing a new pair of high heels. The guys sported the usual collared shirt and tie or bowtie, always managing to look sharp. The senior class voted on a large homecoming court, but the King and Queen reigning over the school for the evening were Rami Eswari and Morgan Davis. The evening came to an end as people drifted off to group hangouts and restaurants.

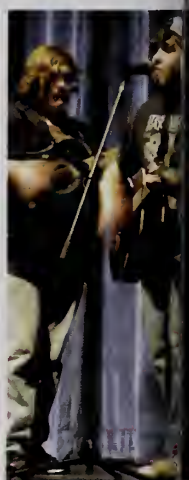

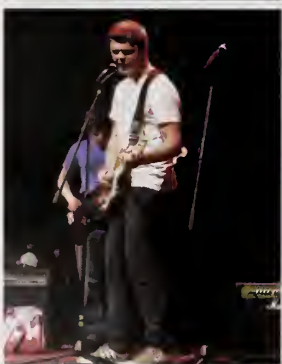

WAMPSTOCK

12-10-14

Wampstock's annual celebration, previously known as Wampapalooza and Battle of the Bands, allows students to express their creativity and talent in a fun and relaxed atmosphere. This year many bands, duets, and solo artists performed in front of their fellow classmates who came out to support them.

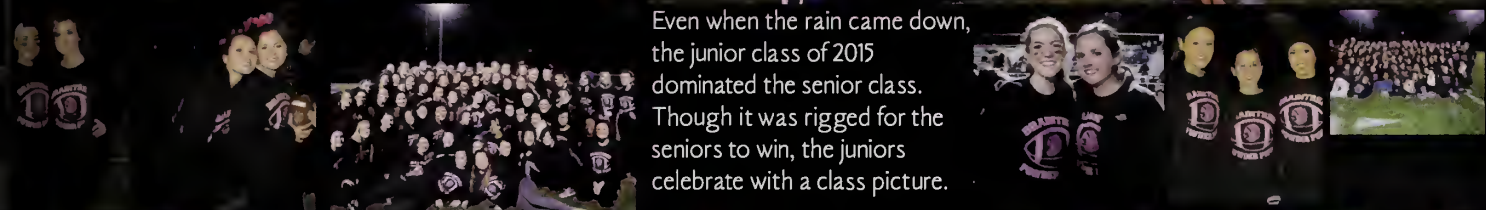

Mrs. Wiggins shares her love for music with some of her students who also performed in this year's Wampstock celebration.

POWDER PUFF

Even when the rain came down, the junior class of 2015 dominated the senior class. Though it was rigged for the seniors to win, the juniors celebrate with a class picture.

The class of 2015 is all smiles as they get together to celebrate their 6-7 victory over the juniors.

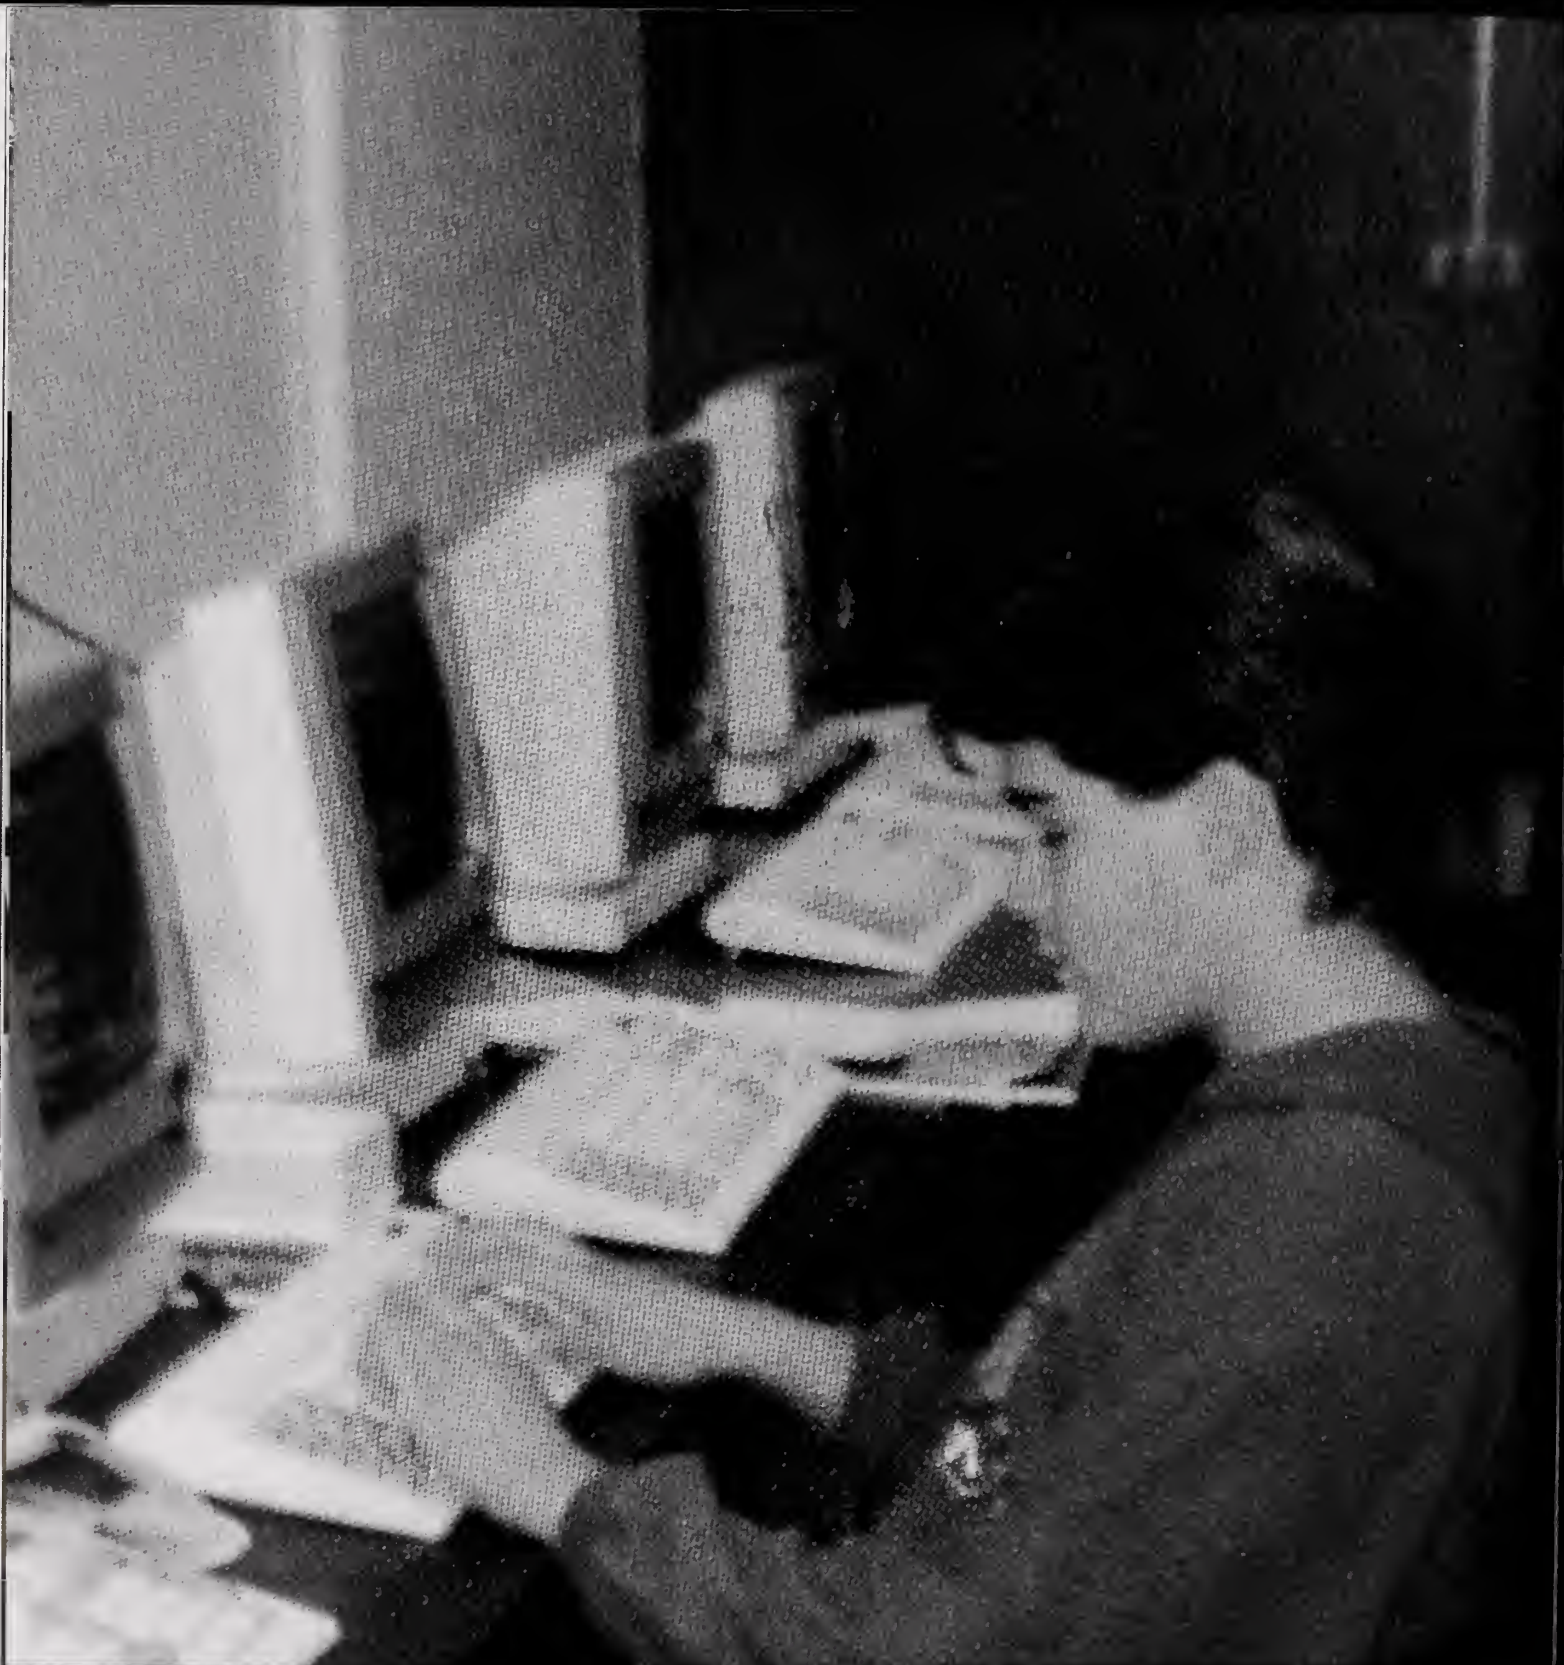

Braintree High School Class of 2015

"A time for us to grow together, to learn about ourselves, to share experiences. It was a good time. It was the best time. A time for laughter. A time for reflection. A time for discovery, exploration, analysis, and creation. The end and the beginning... The search for new horizons."

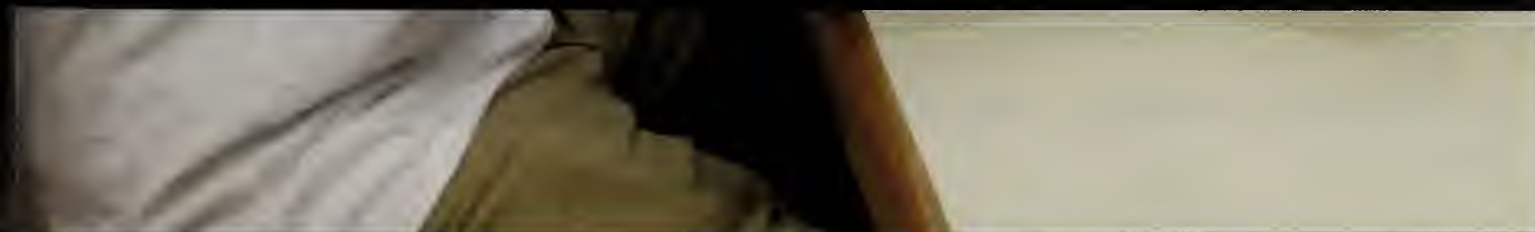

- 1971 Wampanoag
Yearbook

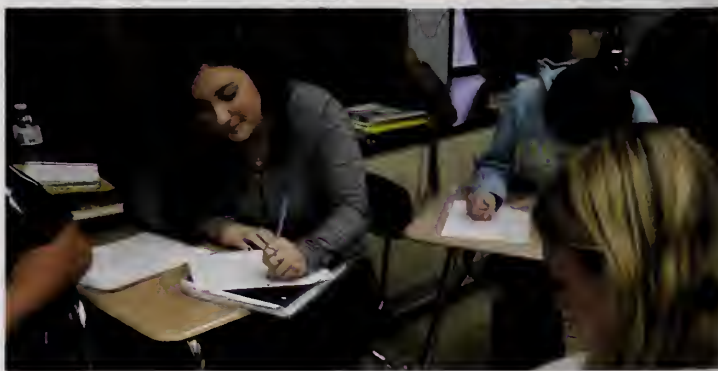

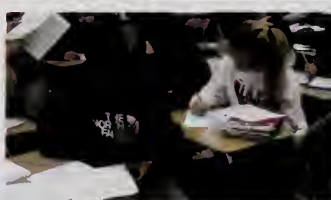

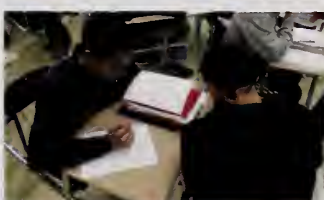

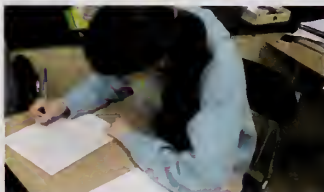

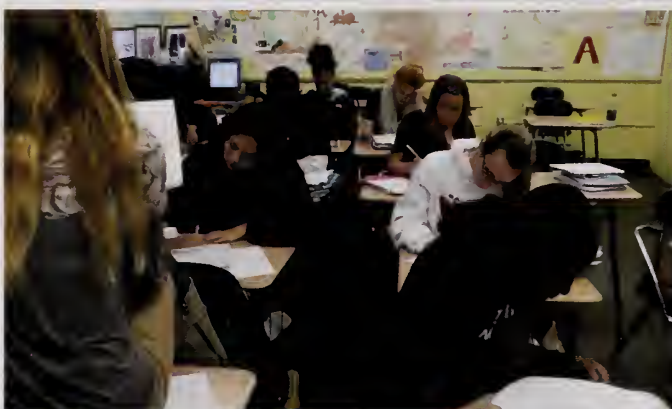

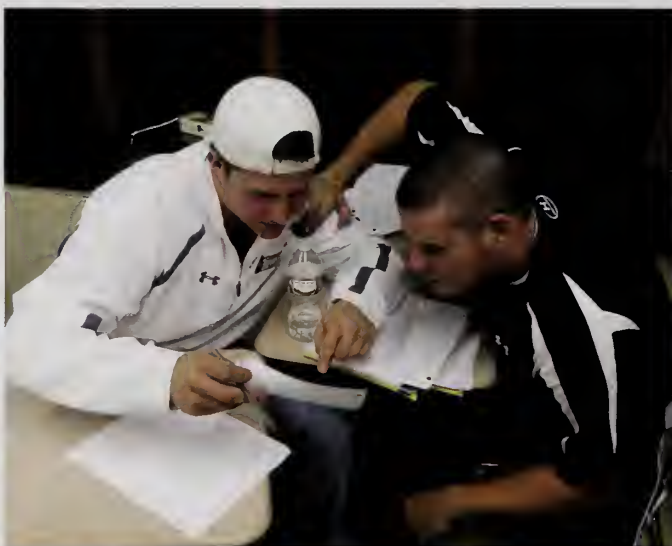

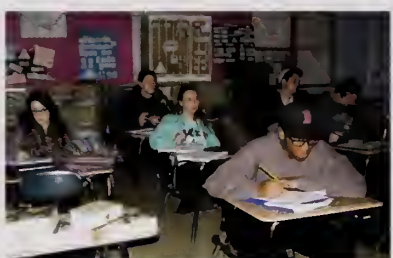

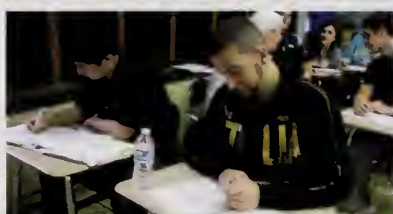

The E in PRIDE stands for educational excellence, an aspiration we all strive for every day. Students are offered a variety of courses to create a schedule that not only fulfills their requirements, but also allows them to explore their interests. From Intro to TV Production for the future producers to AP Computer Science for the engineering majors to Pre-School Lab for the next generation of educators, BHS has a class for everyone. With nineteen different AP classes offered, students are given a headstart on their college careers. Academic support programs – Aces, Alternatives, Archer, COAST, WAVES, School to Work – are also available. When students graduate BHS, they are prepared for the next step, whether it be continuing on to a higher education, protecting our nation, or finding a career. Then, now, and in years to come, BHS will always have PRIDE.

Academics

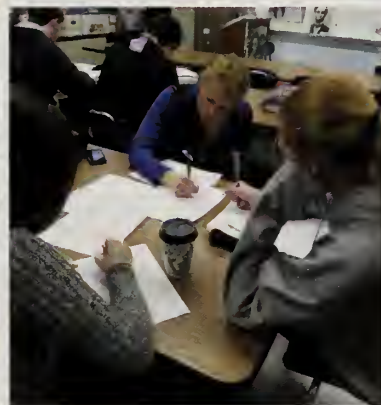

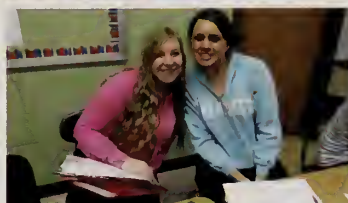

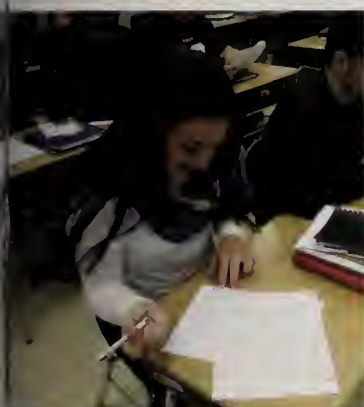

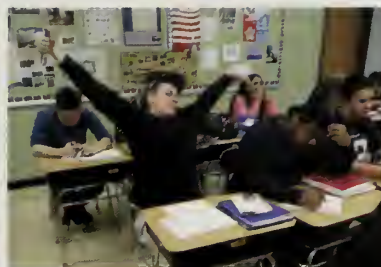

English

Derek Anson and Johnny Cleggett put their brains together to search for the deeper meaning of Sherlock Holmes.

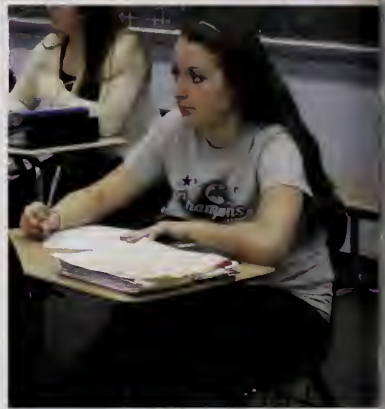

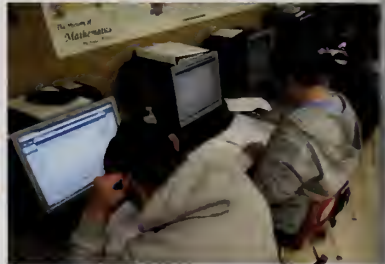

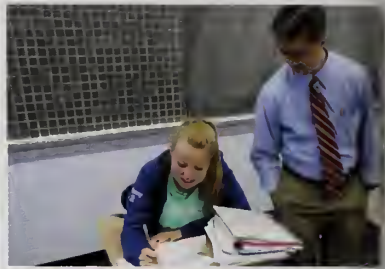

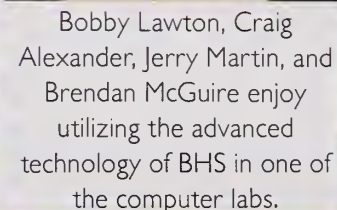

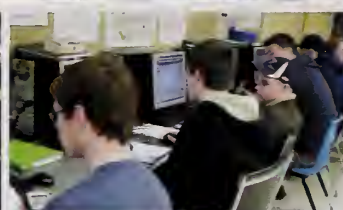

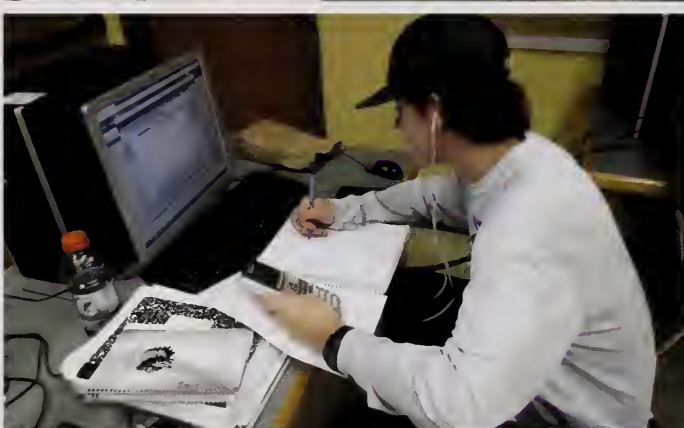

History

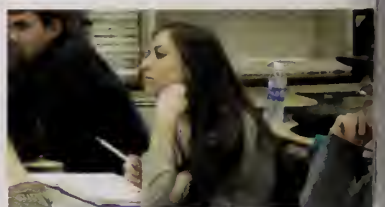

Colleen Stack runs on Dunkin'! Snoozing in history class is not an option for Wamps; from the world of Psychology to European History, these students are wide awake and excited to participate.

Math

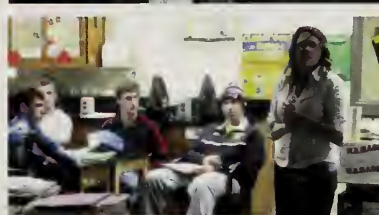

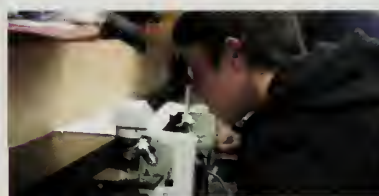

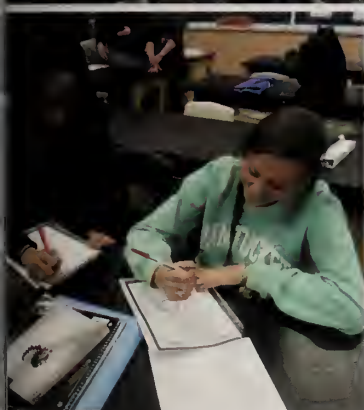

Kevin Troy takes his daily nap in Statistics while still retaining all class discussion information.

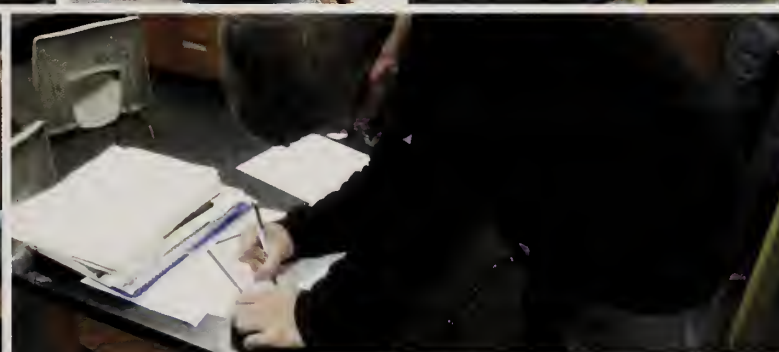

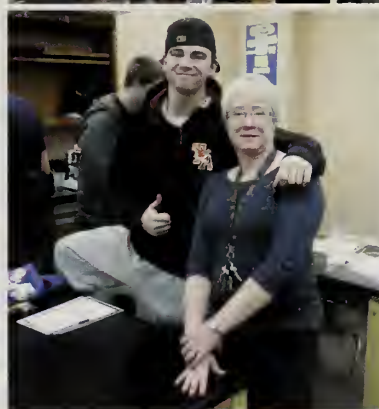

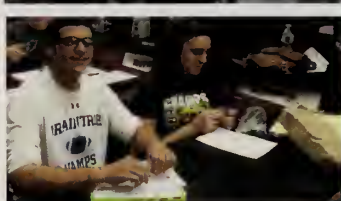

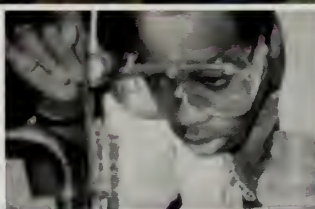

Science

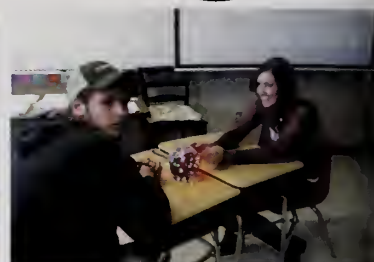

Paige Giuliano and Meg Connolly analyze the human body in Anatomy while Mark Dunphy is deep in thought in the back row.

Math and science have always been a core part of the BHS curriculum. Despite the complex equations and situations taught in these topics, students try to make new connections and discoveries based on the experiments and theories set forth by others.

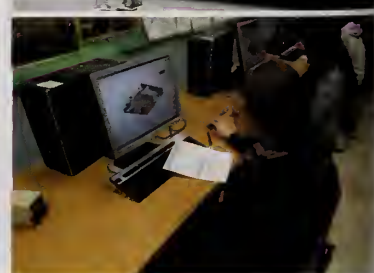

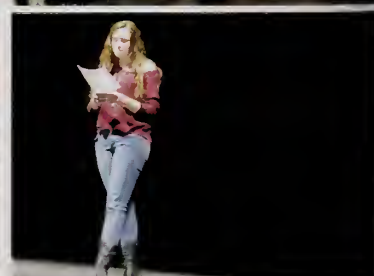

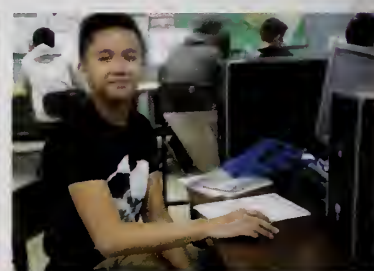

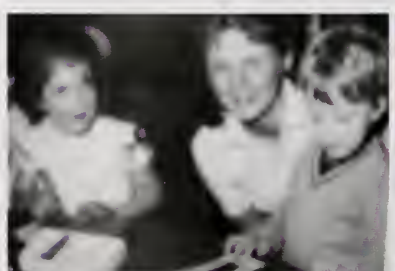

Foreign Language

Christian Giuliano and Vanessa Andersen tell each other's fortunes, one of the many exciting talking activities in Mrs. McKinnies' Spanish Block five class.

Electives

Alexander Weingart shows just as much enthusiasm as does Mr. Wiggin in Public Speaking.

Art

The wide variety of art classes offered at BHS allows artists to choose what medium they want to work with: clay, paint, pencil or photography.

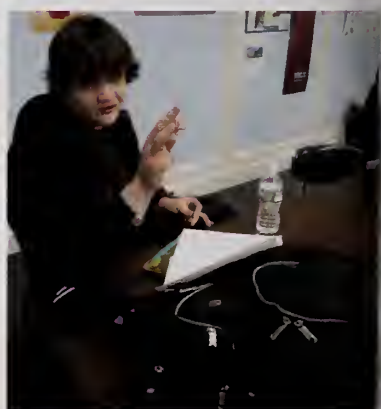

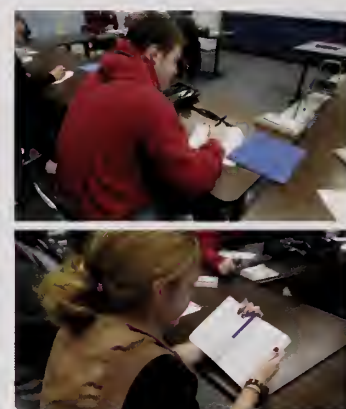

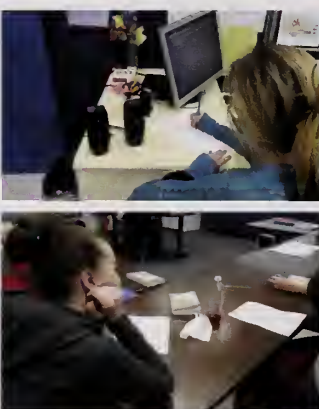

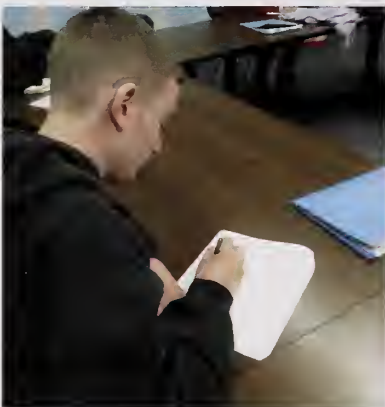

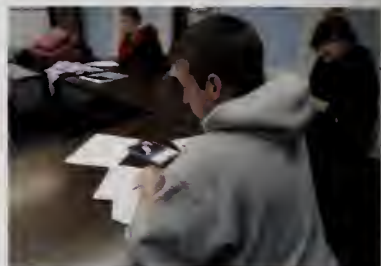

Music

Alternatives

A great classroom environment does not subtract from success, but rather adds to it.

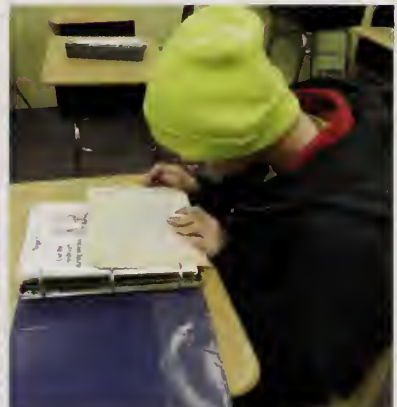

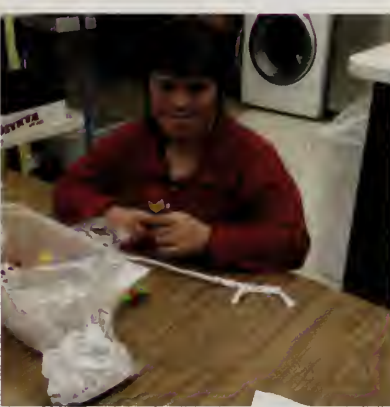

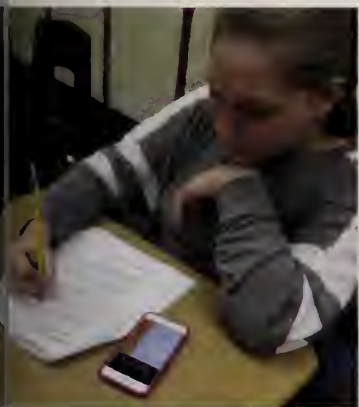

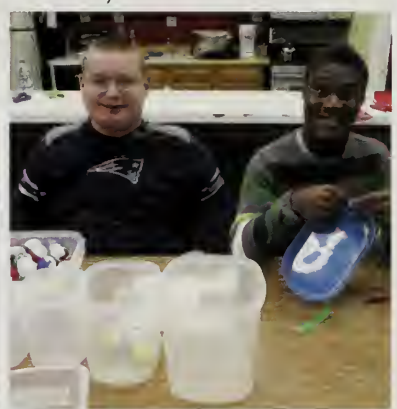

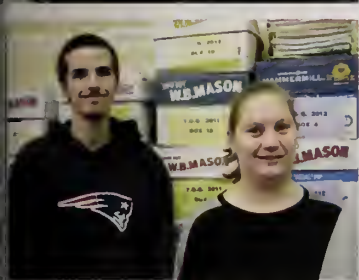

Expect the best from the members of the Alternatives! Pen pressed against the paper without a stop. Hands and minds continue to work without a halt. Each individual in the class demonstrates how they do not fear hard work.

WAVES

Nothing makes your day brighter than seeing beautiful smiles! Doesn't matter whether it's rain or shine, the attitude of these students will always be sunny.

These boys prepare treats for the school faculty, help organize old files, and much more. The members of WAVES surprise everyone with their hard work and involvement in the school. Along with their responsibilities, they still manage to excel in their school work.

The I in PRIDE stands for involvement. Everyday after school, dozens of students gather to foster creative innovations, incite academic curiosity, to discuss the current events of the world. With over thirty clubs geared towards art, science, creative writing, and peer mediation, BHS offers its students the opportunity to become involved. Forty-eight years ago in 1967, our clubs were known as organizations. Today's BHS News was the former school's Tomahawk; our Stone Soup, their Cutshamokin journal. While the Chess Club and Future Nurses Club are no longer, BHS now has the Astronomy Club and the Interact Club, Anime Club and SADD, Improv Comedy Club and the Green Team. Here, students are encouraged to optimize their creativity outside the classroom, debate over society's controversies and court cases, give back to the community through service. BHS students are not only involved, but they are demonstrating our school's PRIDE.

The R in PRIDE stands for respect and responsibility, essential qualities for the success of student athletes. With nineteen different sports to choose from, BHS students have the opportunity to perfect their athletic abilities during every season. The number of sports at BHS has come a long way since 1967, when sports such as swimming, golf, volleyball, and lacrosse were not offered to students. Others - cross country, volleyball, gymnastics - have become BHS traditions. Our student athletes strive for success, whether it be on the field, court, or in the pool. In order to participate, athletes need not only demonstrate qualities of sportsmanship, but also of leadership, determination, and PRIDE. Whether these athletes continue to play in college for recreation or advance to the professional level, they will certainly prove their respect and responsibility along the way.

The P in PRIDE stands for partnership. A quote from the 1967 yearbook states: "the greatest thing in the world is not so much where stand, but the direction in which we are moving." The Braintree community has continuously been moving in a positive direction through the advancement of new technologies, the construction of modern buildings, and the birth of new businesses. In 1996, the South Shore Plaza was undergoing renovations; in 2010, we welcomed a new section of the mall with stores including Target, Nordstrom, The North Face, and Vera Bradley. The location of BHS moved from its previous location on Washington Street to its current location on Town Street. Braintree saw the election of its first mayor in 2008. Without the continuous support of the community, Braintree would not have been able to carry out all of its recent improvements. As a community, we come together to make a difference.

Thirty years from now we'll look at this list and laugh. One Tree Hill? We went to Chipotle multiple times a week. In thirty years Snapchat will be primitive and obsolete. Taylor Swift will be a mom and Mean Girls will be some chick flick everyone watched. Our children will look at this list and not know who or what these people, books, or movies are.
And life will go on.

This yearbook would not have been possible if it had not been for the Wampatuck Yearbooks of many years past. From 1936 to 2014, these previous Wamps gave us the inspiration and ability to create this 2015 edition.

Vanessa,

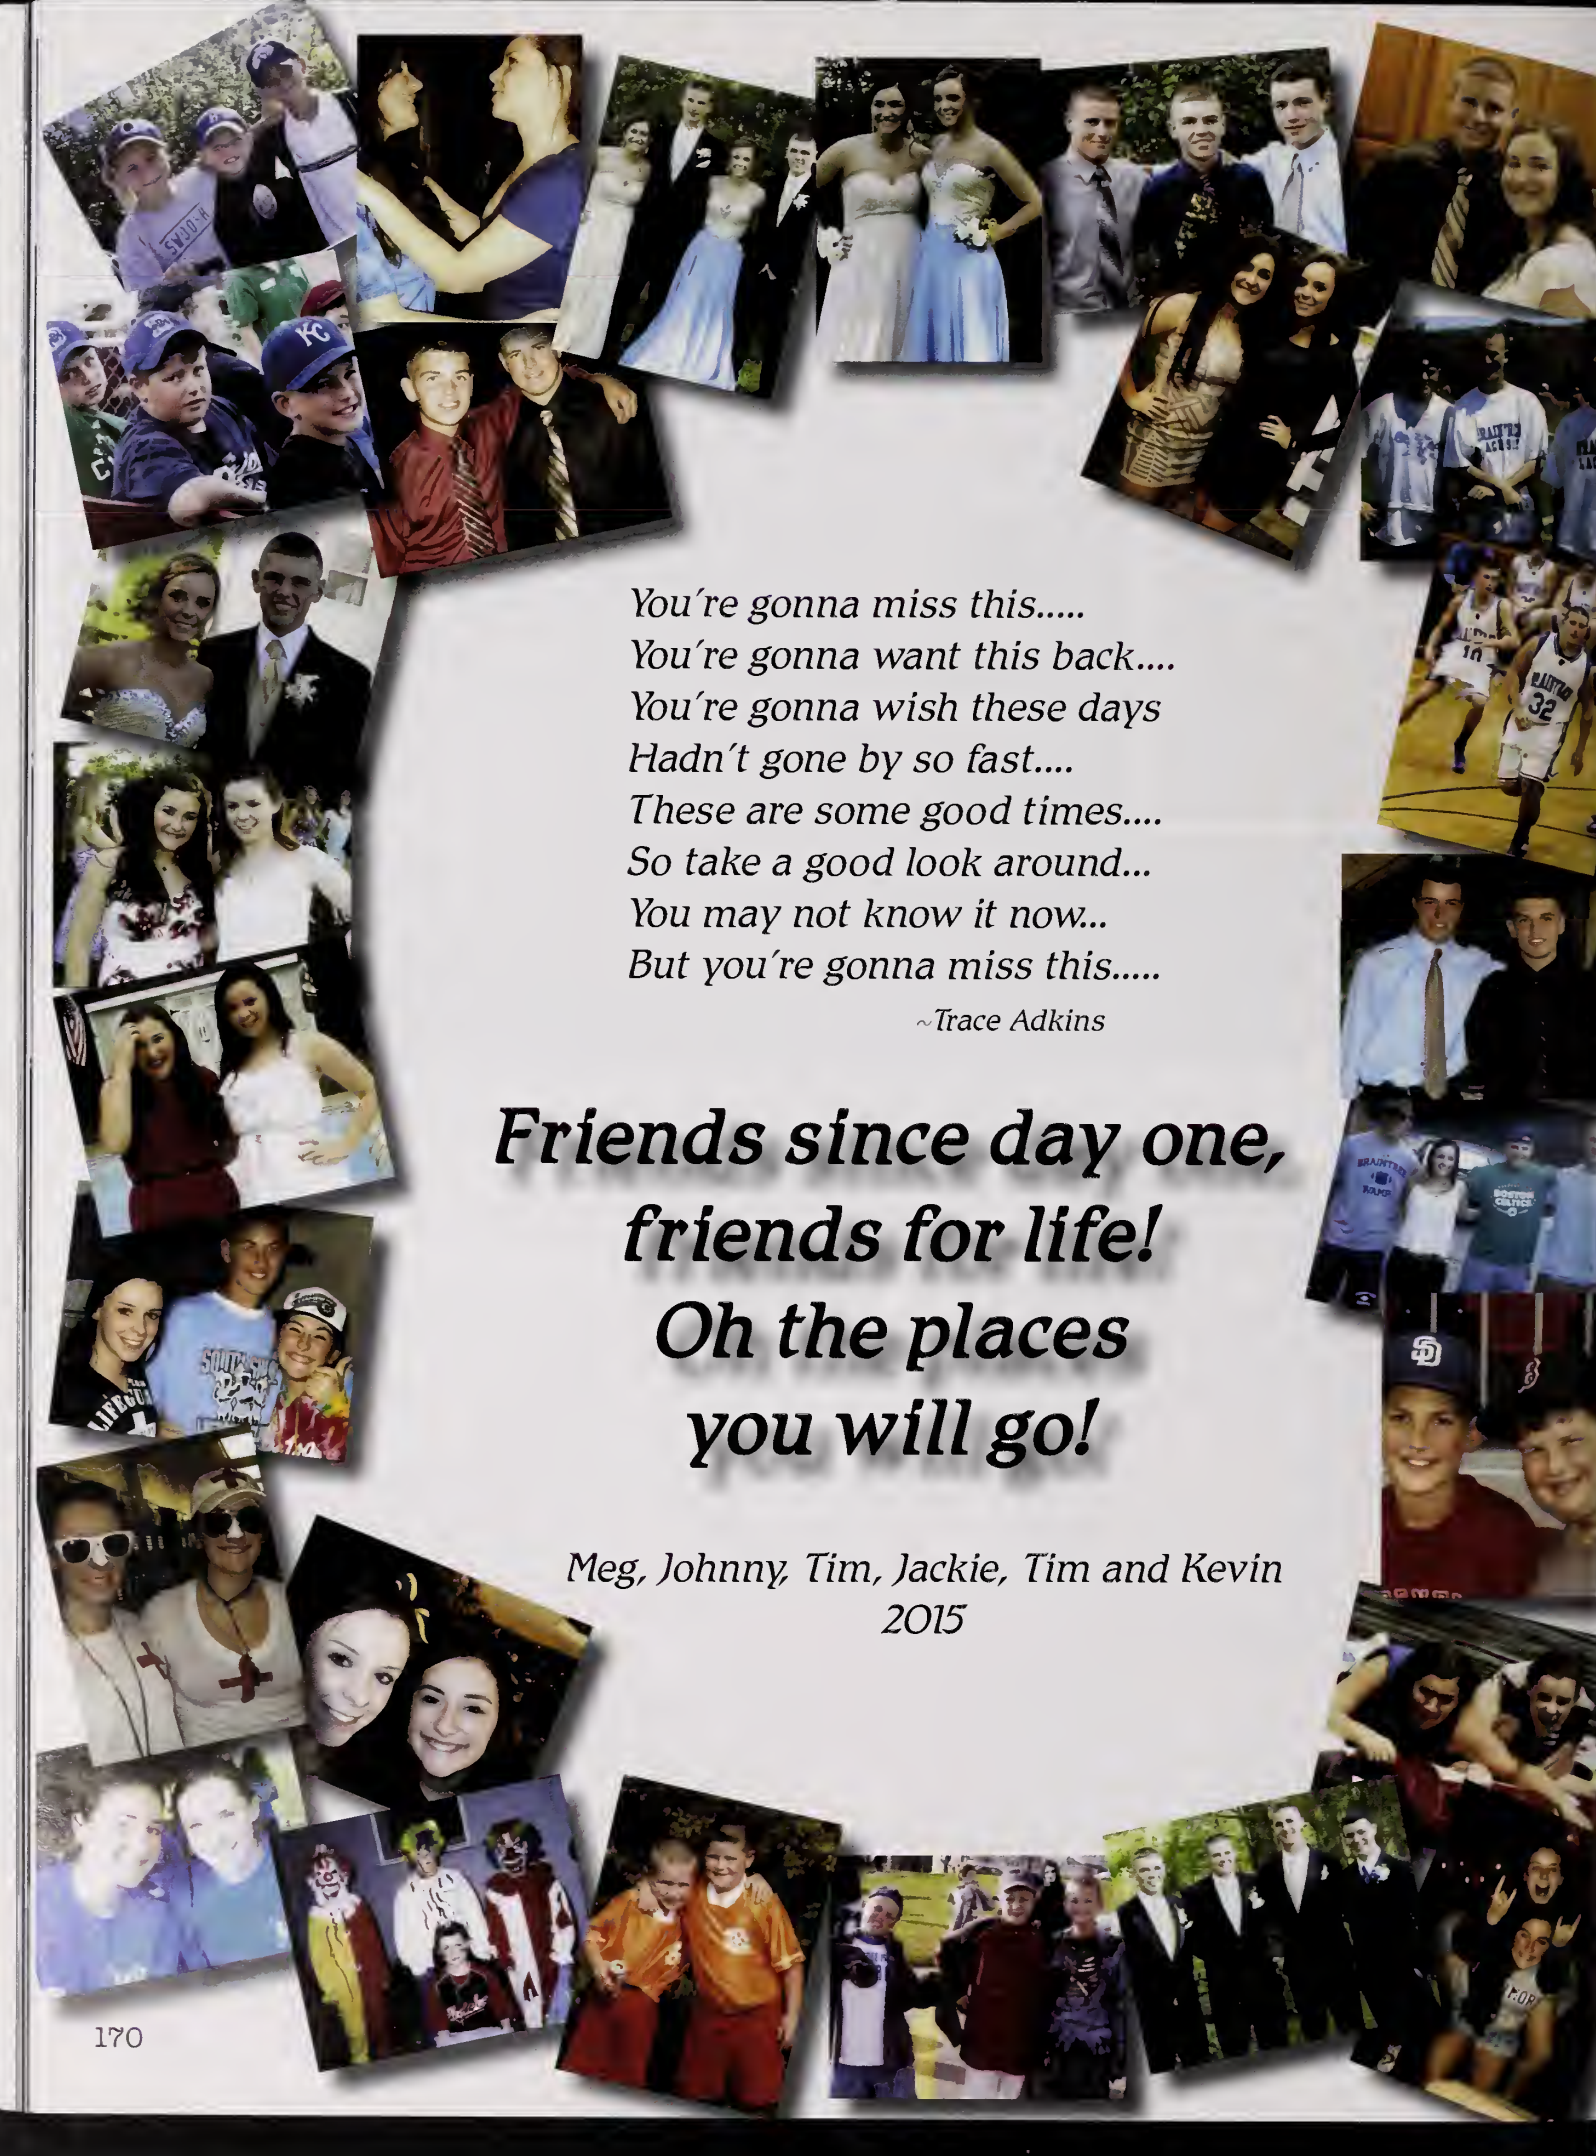

How can it be that you are a senior in high school. It seems like we just dropped you off for your first day of kindergarten. You have brought so much love and happiness to us. It has been so exciting to watch you grow into the loving and caring young lady that you are. We look forward to watching you pursue your dreams. There isn't anything you can't do. You are amazing.

We are so proud of you.

XOXO

*You're gonna miss this....
You're gonna want this back....
You're gonna wish these days
Hadh't gone by so fast....
These are some good times....
So take a good look around...
You may not know it now...
But you're gonna miss this.....*

~Trace Adkins

Friends since day one,
friends for life!
Oh the places
you will go!

Meg, Johnny, Tim, Jackie, Tim and Kevin 2015

Congratulations Brienne Dillon

We are so incredibly proud of you. Always, reach for the sky! Nothing's impossible.

*All our dreams can come true, if we have the courage to pursue them.
Never be afraid because life's not a spectator sport. If watchin' is all you're gonna do, then you're gonna watch your life go by without ya. Always make the right choice. It is our choices that show who we truly are, far more than our abilities. And always remember, the flower that blooms in adversity is the most rare and beautiful of all.*

*We love you,
Mom and Dad*

"If ever there is tomorrow when we're not together, there is something you must always remember. You are braver than you believe, stronger than you seem, and smarter than you think, but the most important thing is, even if we're apart.. We'll always be with you."

Hanna and Mikaela,
You have brought so much Cheer into our lives,
We know you will do that forever-
Lots of love from your families!

"Best friends come one in a million"

Love,
Anne-Marie, Cheryl, Deirdre, Julie, Kelly and Marina

Wampatuck Yearbook Staff 2014-2015

Sophia Berardinelli, Kerrin Norton, Katie Dougherty, Charlynette Robles, Madison Hill, Sam Hill, Monica Kashi, Hayley Baker, Jordan Nashawaty, Jackie Swan, Hannah Tan, Leah Tan, Sarah Murphy, Kim Le, Brianna McDonough, Kerri Mitchell

Editor's Note:

Well class of 2015, it's all over. These 184 pages are all we have left of high school. Memories of good times and friends will still be present, but you won't remember the kid you sat next to in physics or the girl that smiled at you in the hallway. There is nothing else we can do. We have left our mark on this high school. Now it is our time to go off on our own and make a mark on this world. You probably won't look at this yearbook again for several years, decades even, but when you do, hopefully you remember what you are feeling at this moment. I hope you remember the excitement to be moving on and growing up; but I also hope you reminisce on the proud and bittersweet feeling knowing this time was full of happiness and laughter. I hope that everybody achieves what they strive for, and that these thoughts fostered here are turned into realities. I hope you are still proud to be from Braintree and to be a Wamp, the same pride that you carry now. This class is full of truly special, wonderful people who I know will do good things in this world. Good luck, I wish you all the best.

Sincerely,
Sophia Berardinelli

Colophon:

Volume 73 of the Wampatuck was published in a limited edition of 345 copies with 184 full-color pages. An additional 16-page black and white spring supplement covered activities and events that occurred after the March deadline and is delivered in the fall. The books were printed by Jostens Printing and Publishing, PO Box 297, 401 State Park Road College, PA 16801-0297. Tara Anderson was the Jostens yearbook representative. Christina Hodges was the Jostens Plant Representative.

The cost of the edition was approximately $90.00 per yearbook to publish. Individual copies were sold for $80.00 if purchased by the October deadline. All other yearbooks were sold for $90.00.

The cover was designed by BHS Wampatuck Yearbook Staff. The pages were produced using a four-color litho process. Finished pages were submitted to the publisher with Netline. Page layout was done using Adobe InDesign CS6 on Dell Computers and HP laser jet printers. Copy was written in AYT Typewriter and AYT Chantilly.

Senior portraits and photographs were handled by Prestige by Lifetouch Studio. Contributing photography studios for senior portraits included: Prestige by Lifetouch Studio, Silk & Honey, and Lifetouch Studio. Lifetouch photographer John Peresada "All-Star!" provided candid photos for sports and activities. Photographs were also provided by the yearbook staff. Mrs. Marsha Roos was the business advisor and Mrs. Heidi Hurley was the creative and staff advisor. The 2015 Yearbook Staff would like to give thanks to all the faculty and staff for your help and assistance in producing this year's 73rd volume. We apologize for any miss-spelling or miss-identifications, none were done intentionally.
